ANNOUNCEMENT

Because the owner of this herd is no longer able to handle the herd in the manner that he prefers to operate he has decided to sell the entire herd in this dispersal. The herd was started with a few select females in early 1940. The oldest and most prolific family is the Village Bud that trace to the Maxwalton herd. There are many four and five generation females in the herd from this original cow that was purchased in a Columbus Grove, Ohio sale. The second largest cow family in the herd is a group of Augustas that trace to the Dorsey Jones Augustas. Several top females are of the Beauty family that came from the Mort Kimmell herd. Several years ago one of the top females sold in the Buckmaster dispersal was purchased for this herd and was from the Rosebud family. Later a top cow in the Steinmetz sale from the Ringwell herd in Illinois was added to the herd.

Practically all the present cow herd has been bred in this herd and they have been regular producers and cattle from this herd have done well wherever they have gone. Only top herd bulls have been in use in the herd and their pedigrees and breeders are recognized as among the best in the breed. In the past many of the calves have been sold for 4-H club and have performed well in the local shows. If Clair Gage were a younger man he would much prefer keeping the herd however, the new owners will find that this prolific and well bred herd will give a good account of their worth wherever they go.

Calfhood vaccination has been practiced from the herds beginning and all animals have been under this program. The entire 1961 calf crop is sired by the present herd bull Wonder's Max Herald and all animals will be sold as absolute breeders. This sale offers the buyer an opportunity to buy breeding cattle that have always been handled in a practical basis and fully guaranteed.

You will like this group of cows and calves and remember practically all are still young females and have many years of usefulness ahead to work for you.
